impairment of the revenue of all the cities in the state. It is known as the relling stock bill and distributes among the counties and cities of the state the revenues derived from taxation on that property of the railroads. The present lane gives to the cites or towns lo which the roads are located the right to collect this tax It would be lort to the cities which now onjoy that revenue, and would infict a less of something like $100,000 on the city of Richmond. The passage of the bill would also save a good deal to the railroade, as in making up the assessments, while the sate rate is the same, the local rate is much lower in some of the counties then in the cirles, and this would be saved to the railroad compa-

This proposition may forther the idea to segregate all the property of the state and give to the counties and cities the revenue on all properties, reserving to the state the taxes from corporations, licenses and the like and compelling the counties and cities to pay their own school and criminal charges of every sort including salaries of the officials.

WOMAN CAPTURES BURGLAR. A bantam burglar was no match for Mrs. Clare Lindenaner, a welter weight, ia a rough-and-tomble fight in her apartments, in New York, where she found him yesterday afternoon packing op the silverware.

Mrs. Lindensuer returned from s shopping tour, and landed a strong right on the little man's jaw before she took off her hat. A few more well-directed punches, and her query, "Got enough?" brought the ready response, "You bet." With a firm hold on his coat collar she led the culprit to the nearest police station.

In court the judge said she deserved a Carnegle medal, and held the man, who said he was Isidore Rothman, 20 years old, in $3,000 bail for :rist.
